CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

About CSL

Center for Strategic Litigation (CSL) is East Africa's premier think-and-do tank on the rule of law and democracy that seeks to advance the vision of a just and tolerant, vibrant and inclusive democracy grounded in respect for the rule of Law and justice for all. Its programs are tailored towards building knowledge and agency on the rule of law, developing the current and future generation of social justice activists and developing positive jurisprudence in the region in protection of the rights of the most vulnerable as well as the environment.

Our current strategy (2024-2028) focuses on strengthening democratic resilience in Africa, promoting accountability for public resources, building healthy information ecosystems and contributing to climate justice for affected communities in East Africa. We pursue these objectives while cognizant of the gender and other cross cutting dimensions affecting them. We also reckon that achieving democratic resilience is possible with sufficient attention towards accountable and sustainable institutions that deliver democracy.

Since its founding in 2019, CSL has enjoyed the leadership of a founding board of some of the region's most committed advocates for the rule of law and social justice. During this period, the implementation of the organization's strategy and vision has been led by its founding Chief Executive Officer whose tenure will come to a close at the end of 2025. Having served two terms, the founding CEO will step down to allow the organization to transition and prepare CSL for its next stage of growth with an increasing focus on maturity and sustainability.

About the Role

The primary task of the incoming CEO is therefore to steer CSL towards new heights of growth with clear pathways for sustainability of its assets and programs based on the successful implementation of its first two strategies. The new CEO will also help to ground and deepen the regional footprint of CSL's work since its early attempts to regionalize programming towards an expanded horizon.

In this vein, the CEO is responsible for overseeing the administration, programs and strategic plan of the organization. Other key duties include fundraising, marketing, and community outreach. The position reports directly to the Board of Directors. The CEO will participate in executing CSL activities from time to time in line with the CSL strategy and framework of activities.

The ideal candidate must be a person of humility and agility to juggle multiple tasks and requirements of a startup culture while keeping sight of the long term growth targets. The candidate must possess an anti-fragile growth and entrepreneurial mindset to drive the organization towards its ambitious goals for transformation. The incumbent must be a well respect member of civil society in Tanzania and the region with proven credentials for working innovatively in complex operational and political environments.

To be able to excel in this role, an ideal candidate should possess the following characteristics:

- Demonstrate unquestionable integrity and humility.
- Be a well-respected professional with an outstanding intellectual record and gravitas.
- Possess a curious mind, tenacity and strong strategic and analytical skills.
- Have excellent communication and public speaking skills in English and Kiswahili.
- Be a multi-tasker capable of managing competing priorities in a fast-paced, startup environment.
- Inspire, lead, and coach a team effectively.
- Be an open-minded, well-traveled, and well-read individual.
- Be self-driven, organized, efficient, and dependable, with a proven ability to deliver timely results.
- Be tech-savvy and computer literate.
- Have a proven track record in resource mobilization, fundraising, and effectively representing an organisation to stakeholders, donors, and the public.
- Be a well-rounded Pan-Africanist and perpetual optimist who believes in the promise of Africa to deliver functional democracies.
- Have a passion for self-development and the development of others.
